Report Heavy Fighting Around Kontum Outpost

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops repulsed an attack on one fire base north of Kontum in the central highlands Monday, but field reports indicated another outpost may have been overrun.

The Saigon command said the North Vietnamese shelled the Ngo Trang base, seven miles northwest of Kontum, and then made a ground assault on the camp's outer defenses.

"The enemy was repulsed, leaving behind 65 dead and 16 assorted weapons," a communique said. It reported four government troops killed and 15 wounded.

It was the third day of attacks on Ngo Trang.

Field reports of fighting at another outpost nine miles north of Kontum said 35 of the defenders were missing and the fate of the post was not known.

Fire Base November, four miles north of Kontum, was hit by 40 artillery and mortar rounds. One South Vietnamese officer said the shelling was an everyday occurrence.

Twelve B52 strikes were flown against North Vietnamese troop concentrations and staging areas in the central highlands between noon Monday and 6 a.m. today, the U.S. Command reported.

More than 30 of the giant Stratofortresses attacked the North Vietnamese farther north in Quang Tri Province, where an offensive by government marines and paratroopers has been bogged down by rain and mud.

Twelve more B52s flew north of the demilitarized zone to attack supply caches around the North Vietnamese port of Dong Hoi, 27 miles above the DMZ, the U.S. Command announced.

The Command also announced the loss of a U.S. Air Force A7 Corsair over North Vietnam Dec. 2. The Command said the pilot left his formation to take a look at something in the Barthelemy Pass and disappeared.

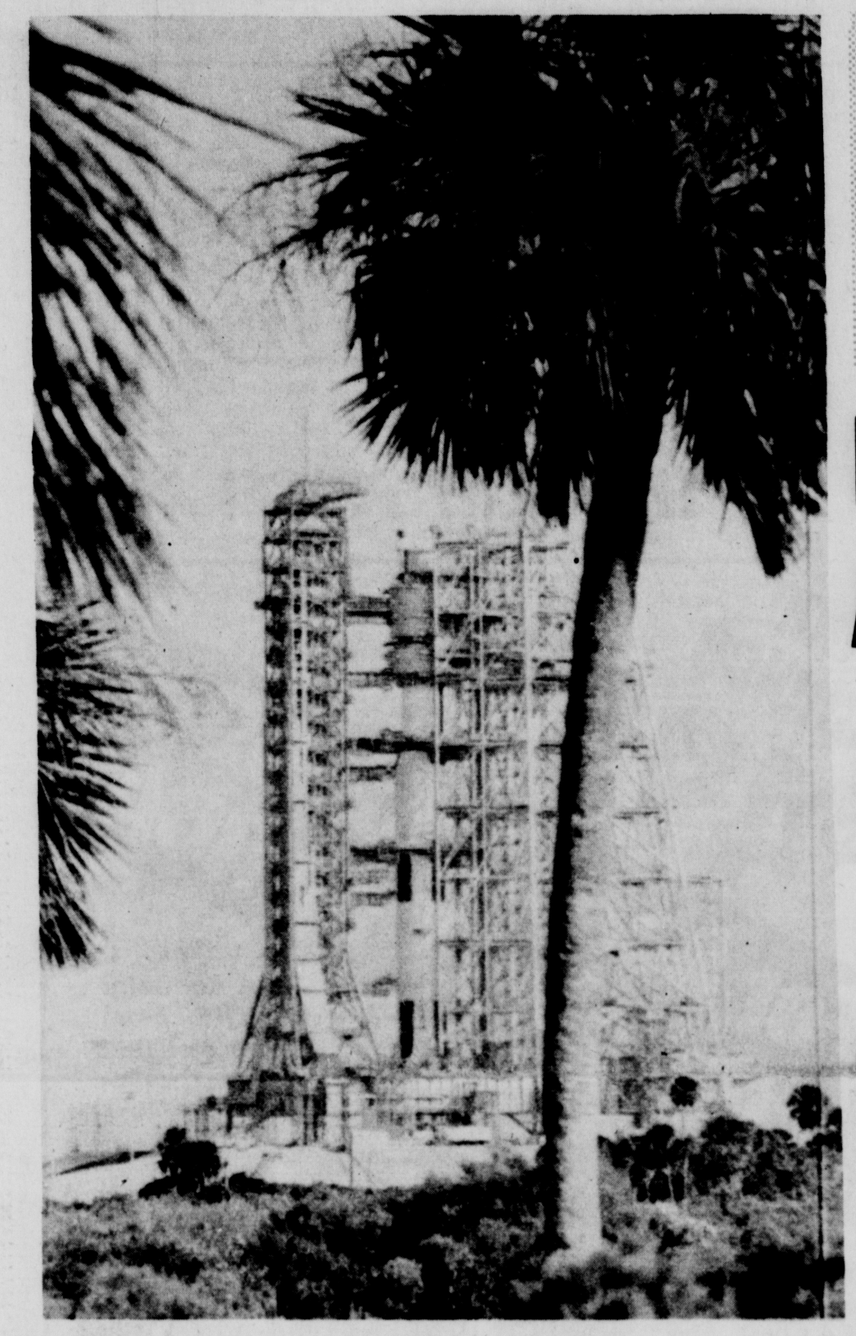

It was the 191st U.S. plane reported lost in the air war against North Vietnam since early last April. A total of 128 fliers have been reported lost in these crashes.

The U.S. Command reported 90 fighter-bomber strikes against North Vietnam Monday. It said the raiders destroyed three railroad bridges and a highway bridge near Thanh Hoa and smashed 37 supply trucks.

Radio Hanoi reported today that the North Vietnamese capital had been put on full alert again, and the wording of the broadcast indicated that the North Vietnamese government felt the United States might resume bombing in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, if a cease-fire agreement is not concluded soon.

Nixon Makes HUD Choice; Morton Stays at Interior

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today named Undersecretary of Commerce James T. Lynn to be secretary of Housing and Urban Development and announced that Rogers C. B. Morton would remain as Interior secretary in his second-term Cabinet.

As Nixon continued his Cabinet shuffle, it was learned that Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson will leave his current post next month to head a new government council in charge of all U.S. international economic policy.

Lynn, 45, succeeds George Romney as HUD secretary. Romney announced last week he was leaving the Cabinet to form a citizens action organization.

With today's announcement, Lynn continues his rapid climb in administration ranks. He left his private law practice in his native Cleveland in 1969 to become Commerce department general counsel, and was named undersecretary of Commerce in March 1971.

Morton, who resigned his seat in Congress to become Interior secretary after Nixon fired Walter Hickel, is the third Cabinet officer Nixon has announced will serve in a second term. Last week the President disclosed Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Treasury Secretary George Shultz will be retained in those positions.

White House press secretary Ronald Ziegler would not comment on the report that Peterson would take over the new government council on international economics, nor would he discuss reports that South Carolina textile magnate Frederick B. Dent would succeed Peterson at the Commerce department.

Sources said the details of the council, which will be comparable to the National Security Council are still being worked out. But they said at a White House announcement that Peterson will be changing jobs in the near future.

The sources said the change has been in the cards for Peterson for some time since the administration decided it wanted to reorganize the way international economic policy is handled.

Peterson, a one-time boy wonder of business, was named secretary of Commerce less than a year ago when he succeeded Maurice Stans. Before that Peterson served as assistant to the President for international economic affairs.

Since taking over the Commerce department, the Kearney, Neb., native has assumed increasingly greater authority in trade matters and speculation has grown that he was driving for more power in international economic affairs.

The sources indicated Peterson would head a new team in international trade relations, but they said the membership has not been finally determined. This is one of the details that needs to be worked out, they said.

Earlier it was reported that Nixon has chosen Undersecretary of Commerce James T. Lynn as his nominee for secretary of housing and urban development.

The Washington Post reported today that Lynn, a 45-year-old lawyer, is the President's choice for the job George Romney is leaving.

The Post said also that Nixon has picked Frederick B. Dent, a South Carolina textile manufacturer, to replace Peter G. Peterson as commerce secretary if Peterson is shifted to the White House as a presidential assistant with over-all responsibility for international economic policy.

The Peterson shift remains unsettled, the Post said, because Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz opposes relinquishing his department's authority in international monetary policy.

Nixon was scheduled to meet today with Shultz, who will continue to head the Treasury Department and will take on expanded duties as the administration's top economic policymaker during the second Nixon term.

Launch Countdown Reported 'Smooth'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Preparations for Wednesday's last Apollo flight to the moon are "the smoothest we've had in some time," a space agency official said today as the pace accelerated on the launch pad for the 9:53 p.m. liftoff.

Astronauts Eugene A. Cernan, Ronald E. Evans and Harrison H. Schmitt slept late to adjust their biological time clocks, and expected to do some pleasure-flying in jet trainers and last-minute cramming for the flight of Apollo 17.

At 7 a.m. the downward-ticking clocked reached the 28-hour mark — the official start of the terminal phase when the spacecraft and its systems receive final checks and fuel.

At 1 a.m. Wednesday, the 402-foot-high service structure will be rolled away and the Saturn 5 will stand alone, poised for the half-million mile, 13-day journey.

All systems — human, hardware, weather and rodent — were ready for America's first night launching of humans into space — and the last moon landing in the foreseeable future.

The launch crew ran into the usual number of minor and easily fixable problems — hose connections that sprung leaks, an air filter that didn't fit, a piece of scientific equipment that wasn't working right.

None of it was important enough to disrupt the minute-by-minute schedule as electronic clocks tick downward for the liftoff.

"The weather outlook continues to be favorable," the space agency said. "The forecast calls for partly cloudy skies with winds from 8-12 m.p.h. out of the south. The temperature in the vicinity of the launch pad should be in the 60s."

That should be good news for the 500,000 space buffs expected in the Cape Kennedy area in central Florida and millions of others in a 500-mile radius who will see the Saturn 5's 2,200-foot-long tail of fire if skies are clear.

And the rodents — five tiny mice who'll give their lives for science — come aboard today in individual tubes inside a sealed aluminum canister. They'll ride in the command ship America with Evans round-and-round the moon while Cernan and Schmitt explore the combination highland-lowland area of Taurus-Littrow on the surface.

May File Suits

City Will Press For Court Fines

By KEITH A. OWEN
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

City Attorney Robert Liston will be employed on a part time basis to investigate and in some cases file suit against individuals owing back fines to municipal court, the City Council decided at its meeting Monday night.

The council voted to hire Liston, who will check up on individuals who have owed the city fines for as long as a year, it was learned.

Discussion in the pre-council session revealed that the city can not jail an individual who is unable to pay a fine because of a lack of money. Mayor Jerry Jones indicated the court has, in the past, allowed individuals to set up an installment method of paying fines, but some persons have taken advantage of the situation and stopped making their payments.

Carl Franklin, Third Ward councilman, summed up the purpose of the action when he commented that it should eliminate a situation where an honest man pays his fine while another man who is actually able to pay gets off by falsely claiming indigency.

Liston's primary function will be to check on a person who owes a fine and see if he is actually unable to pay. If he learns the individual has the ability to pay, he will then contact him and request payment. If the fine money is still not forthcoming Liston will file suit in Magistrate Court. As a civil suit, the defendant will not be entitled to free legal counsel, according to Robert Fritz, city counselor.

Jones explained his views on the subject, saying he feels the council has an obligation to try and collect the back fines. He added that the process should be carried out with "dignity and respect for the person who owes the city money."

In other action, Fritz recommended and the council agreed to drop prosecution against Kenneth J. Wasson, owner of Pettis County Ambulance, on charges of operating an ambulance without a city license. Fritz explained Wasson has purchased a license for 1972-73. The infraction occurred during the 1971-72 period, it was learned.

The council agreed to meet with representatives of the firefighters' union following the Dec. 18 council meeting. Talks concerning a pay-step schedule will continue at that time, it was reported. The firemen recently rejected such a schedule.

The building in which the water department has its offices will be purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Andrews, Shawnee Mission, Kan., for $40,000. The building is located at 111 West Fourth.

Councilman Don Broaddus, chairman of the fire and water committee, said the purchase was made because the Andrews' had informed the council of their intent to sell the building.

"It would be hard to move out, so we went ahead and bought it," said Broaddus, who indicated the building had been inspected by council members several

Consider Softball Request

Repeal Swimming Pass Policy For City Employes' Children

The Sedalia Park and Recreation Board reversed one long-standing policy Monday and took another measure under consideration which, if approved, would eliminate a board ruling established nearly one year ago.

The board overthrew the traditional granting of swimming pool passes to children of city employes. However, the practice of disbursing passes to children in return for picking up trash in city parks was retained.

Jack Couts, part superintendent, told the board approximately 200 passes were issued last season and nearly all had been used. The policy of disbursing passes to children of city employes was a topic of discussion at last summer's board meetings and met public criticism at that time.

Representing the Tri-County Softball League, Larry Murphy appeared before the board seeking use of Hubbard Park baseball diamonds for softball games. The Little League has used the facilities in years past.

However, almost a year ago Little League officials asked for the board's permission to move their games from Hubbard Park to Centennial Park where the Little League planned to build two baseball diamonds with its own funds and labor.

At that time the board ruled against the request and prohibited the Little League from constructing another baseball diamond in Centennial Park for 12 months.

Jim Grady, board president, pledged swift action on the Tri-County request, saying "we'll decide it one way or another" at the January meeting. He indicated Little League officials have maintained interest in their original proposition.

The board also voted not to pay a bill for the parking lot at the Centennial Park pool. Jim Grady explained the cost of the parking lot had been deleted from the original contract. He further stated the board's action was to determine which unit of city government is obligated to pay for the lot, the City Council or the park board.

Couts was asked to examine the bench shortage in the park system. Couts told the board, "it's going to take at least 100 benches to make a dent" in the shortage. He said of the 270 benches used in Convention Hall, 100 to 250 could be made ready for use in parks. "It's just a matter of putting a little paint on them ..." Couts said.

He reported that the cost of purchasing 100 new benches would amount to $2,550. He said folding chairs could be purchased to replace the benches in Convention Hall at a cost of $1,605, making for a "savings of over $900."

Bob Beykirch reminded the board matching funds could be appropriated to buy park benches. He also suggested the board investigate the use of benches made partially or in whole from concrete. Ray Young added the park and recreation department might make an extra savings by purchasing bench forms and pouring the concrete itself.

In other action the board revealed it is in the process of seeking bids on construction of a combination concession stand and storage building to be located in Centennial Park. The most recent drawings of the facility by Sammons and Buller, architects, appear to be the final draft, according to the board.

Coating tennis courts in Centennial Park with rubberized asphalt was discussed. However, the board will not request matching funds for the project until plans are completed.

The board also decided to spend about $600 remodeling a vacant room at Convention Hall in order to house the park department's administrative offices there. The offices are currently located in the park department's building on Liberty

Liquor For 18-Year-Olds May Come Before 1973 State Legislature

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The rights to sell, buy and possess liquor and beer would be extended to 18-year-olds under a bill submitted for the 1973 legislative session beginning Jan. 3.

Another bill prefiled Monday by three House members would change the Merit System Law to make pay scales uniform throughout the state.

The bill, authored by Reps. Hayden Morgan, D-Nevada, William A. Peterson, D-Marshall, and Joe D. Holt, D-Fulton, would remove a clause allowing localities in which the job is performed to play a part in setting the salary level.

Rep. Earl L. Schlef, D-Dellwood, offered two bills lowering the age from 21 to 18 in laws regulating sale, purchase and possession of liquor and "nonintoxicating" beer, which is defined by law as beer with an alcoholic content of 3.2 per cent by weight. That type is commonly sold in the state.

Rep. Bob F. Griffin, D-Cameron, offered a bill to make it a misdemeanor to damage or steal money from parking meters, coin telephones, vending machines, or money changing machines, or be illegally in possession of a key or other device used to open the machines.

Another Griffin bill would make it a theft to fail to return leased or rented property within 10 days of being notified to return it.

Rep. Cloy E. Whitney, R-Kirksville, submitted a bill to repeal a section of the Local Government Employes Retirement System Law. The section says that no other plan can be used for employes other than policemen and firemen, and political subdivisions can't use plans other than the local government employes retirement system law other than social security, old age assistance, insurance or disability assistance.

A third bill to restore the death penalty in certain cases was submitted by Rep. Hardin C. Cox, D-Rock Port. Two others were submitted Friday.

Cox's bill would provide the death penalty for murder of a law enforcement officer, a guard or other employe of the Department of Corrections, a witness to a crime, any disabled person or a person over 70 and under 13.

A bill by Sens. Jack E. Gant, D-Independence, and Paul R. Bradshaw, R-Springfield, would make 47 deletions in the corporations code.

Among their proposals:

—Deletion of a clause saying a company must have at lteast $500 in capital before it can incorporate.

—For fee purposes, a $1 value per share would be placed on shares without a par value when the corporation is formed.

—The board of directors could adopt amendments before the corporation receives all the money from its shares during its organization. (the amendments still would be subject to approval by all shareholders).

—Articles of incorporation must contain the home addresses of officer and directors rather than just the mailing address.

—A first registration filed within 30 days after issuance of articles of incorporation shall stand as the registration for that calendar year.

—The directors can accept or reject subscription for shares made before or after articles of incorporation are filed.

—The fee for late filing of annual registrations (the deadline is Aug. 1) will be increased by $5, and will increase, per month, to a high of $40 for filing after Dec. 1.

—Voting on sale, lease or exchange of property would be by two-thirds vote of the shareholders instead of the current three-fourths.

Another bill by Cox would require charitable organizations soliciting funds to file detailed annual financial reports of their activities with the secretary of state. The reports would show the amount spent on administration, travel expenses, office expenses, and other costs.

At least half of the collected funds would have to go for charitable purposes but the bill would not apply to educational or religious organizations

Professional fund raisers would have to get a $50 license and put up a $5,000 bond.

Violations would be misdemeanors and the attorney general would have the power to seek injunctions against fraudulent fund raising operations.

Sen. Truman E. Wilson D-St. Joseph, submitted a bill allowing a married minor between 18-21 to receive $10,000 from insurance companies in the death of his or her spouse without going through a court hearing. The minor would have to have signed a statement releasing the insurance company from further obligation.

A resolution by Sens. Albert M. Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, and Maurice Schechter, D-Creve Coeur, calls for a constitutional amendment changing several rules on constitutional conventions.

One change would delete the $10-per-day expense allowance for delegates and leave it for the legislature to determine.

Another change would allow the convention to be held someplace besides the legislative chambers.

A bill by Sen. Donald Manford, D-Kansas City, outgoing Appropriations Committee chairman, calls for "zero base" budget estimates from the various agencies and departments. Appropriation requests would be made every two years and the departments would have to give a detailed report on the past two years, as well as the upcoming two years.

Under the "zero base" budget, a department would first have to have something to spend the money on before it could be appropriated.

A House bill by Lloyd J. Baker, D-Moberly, would prevent legislators or state officials — elected or appointed — and relatives within the fourth degree of a current employe from being appointed to any state fee office.

A relative of the fourth degree of consanguinity would be a great uncle, grandnephew or great, great grandfather.

A bill to revise a law on county surveyors also was offered by Baker. It would require all counties to elect a county surveyor or someone to act as a surveyor, and each county court would set up an office for the job. A fine for not fulfilling his duties according to law would be raised from $90 to $500 for the surveyor.

Strangling Incidents Studied

BOSTON (AP) — The deaths of four young women and the disappearance of another in the Boston area have prompted comparisons with the Boston Strangler murders of 10 years ago.

But "there's nothing to indicate these cases are all related," Boston Det. Lt. Edward F. Sherry said Monday.

Capt. John V. Silk of the Lynn police echoed the investigators' views, saying, "So far we haven't come up with anything — except that three of them went to the same school."

Sherry said a number of girls in Boston have been accosted recently while hitchhiking — a thread believed common in at least some of the five cases. They have talked to police, but the descriptions of their assailants were different in each case, he said.

However, police departments in Lynn, Brockton and Nashua, N.H., are keeping in close touch with Boston as they investigate the deaths of women in their areas in recent months.

All five girls were between 18 and 22, all residents of Boston or Cambridge, all white, all middle class and all attractive.

Autopsies indicated that three of them were strangled and the fourth was strangled and stabbed. Rape was established in two cases, but the two other bodies were not found immediately after death, and the time lag complicated autopsy findings.

Working Two Jobs Got Him Addicted

Dear Ann Landers: I have a serious problem and don't know who to turn to. Please help. I am 23, male, with a fine wife and two small children. About four months ago I started to work a second job to make more money. I began to take "pep pills" when one of the guys at the second job told me that's how he got the energy to carry him through a second shift. Now I am hooked.

I realize I'm addicted to oral Speed and it is killing me. I feel like a revved up motor with no brakes. Twice I tried to quit but I couldn't keep my eyes open. I can't tell my wife I'm hooked on cross-tops. It would kill her if she knew. This lousy stuff is making a paranoid nut out of me. Do you know of an anti-amphetane I could switch to that would give me the energy I need and get me out of this junkie routine? I'm desperate. — Portland Troubles

Dear P.T.: You can be helped by a doctor if you follow his instructions. I implore you not to try to treat yourself. You did that once and you see where it landed you!

Dear Ann Landers: Two and a half months ago my mother-in-law left her husband. Every weekend since the separation she has been at our house. She is a very nice person, but I think she is mixed up.

The reason for the split is that my father-in-law has a bad temper and has beaten her up several times. She says she hates the sight of him and there is no chance that they will ever get together again. Yet every weekend she telephones him and he comes over and they go off together until all hours of the night.

The next day she says she had a rotten time and she wishes he would leave her alone. She must not remember that we know SHE called HIM. She tells everyone a different story.

My husband and I have been married only a year and his mother keeps our home in constant turmoil. We have no free time together since we both work and the weekends are taken over by his mother. He says she can't abandon her in her hour of trouble. Any suggestions? — Fight Fight Fight

Dear Fight: You need an impartial person, a doctor or a clergyman for example, to make it clear to your husband that his major concern should be his own marriage because his mother's is already a mess and there is nothing he can do about it.

Dear Ann Landers: People gripe through your column a lot, so please give me my turn.

To Whom It May Concern — namely, all you empty-headed idiots who keep asking me if I'm going to be a doctor just because my dad is one:

The answer is NO. The reason I am working as a janitor in a doctor's office is because I am under legal age to get a job. I hate it when someone says, "Oh, so you're going to be a doctor, too!" Or when I put a bandage on a kid in the neighborhood who has a scratch, they say, "Practicing medicine, just like your dad!"

I wish people would quit saying it. It gets on my nerves. I'll bet this goes for lots of doctors' sons. How about a smart answer for these kooks? — I Want To Be An Architect

Dear Arch: You don't need a smart answer — try a calm and reasonable one. There is no law that says a son must follow his father's occupation. On the other hand, why are you so hostile to your dad? Think about that for a while, son.

Schedule Emprise Hearing

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A public hearing has been scheduled for Thursday to determine the possibilities of St. Louis terminating a contract with a subsidiary of Emprise Corp., Doris Bass, a member of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen and chairman of the Auditorium Committee, said Monday.

Emprise, a New York based firm, holds concession contracts at many race tracks, stadiums and auditoriums, and its subsidiary, Sportservice Inc., was the only bidder on a five-year contract let by the city of St. Louis in August of 1971 for Kiel Auditorium.

Emprise has been under investigation by several state agencies recently. The firm was fined $10,000 in court here last July for conspiring to conceal the ownership of a Las Vegas gambling casino.

Mrs. Bass said, "It doesn't really look good for the city to be connected with them. There must be others we can let contracts to."

She said she plans to present information on the city's contract to the committee and hopes to determine at the hearing whether there is any way the city can cancel its contract with Sportservice.

Mishap Is Fatal

MONROE CITY, Mo. (AP) — A 17-year-old Hunnewell, Mo. girl, Patricia Ann Calvert, was killed Monday night when the car in which she was riding skidded out of control and overturned.

Shortage in Fuel Not Expected Here

The national shortage of natural gas has not yet had an effect on Sedalia industries which use the fuel source, according to William Hiatt, district engineer for the Missouri Public Service Co.

Major industrial firms in Missouri and Kansas recently were asked by utility companies to cut back on their use of natural gas and resort to other fuels, because of the shortage.

However, Hiatt said Monday he has received no statement from his Oklahoma City natural gas supplier indicating that a severe shortage in the product is projected for this winter.

"I'm not going to predict what the situation will be," Hiatt said. "The supplier (Cities Service Co.) hasn't indicated anything to us about a shortage."

Recently the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., which services utilities in Kansas and Missouri, announced that it has not been able to supply its customers with all the gas they need.

Hiatt said although Panhandle supplies natural gas to Missouri Public Service Co. in other cities in the state, Sedalia is not among them.

A spokesman for Pittsburgh Corning Corp., one of the city's major users of natural gas, said in past years temporary gas shortages have forced the business and other area industries to use propane gas or other fuels for a few days at a time.

It is doubtful that a cutback in the supply of natural gas here would affect homeowners or small businessmen who use the product, unless severely cold weather occurs, one official said.

Solid Waste Management Is Discussed

A representative of the Show-Me Regional Planning Commission in Warrensburg addressed the LaMonte City Council Monday evening. Darrell McAllister, who resides in LaMonte, proposed bringing the mayors of several of the area 's smaller communities together to discuss the possibility of having one collector for several towns in the proposed solid waste collection program. LaMonte received a model ordinance from the state concerning solid waste collections and the council plans to adopt one similar to it.

A special park board, created by the council to study the possibilities of building a city park, reported to the council concerning proposed park facilities and where the park might be located. To date, no action has been taken on the purchase of land.

The topic of solid waste was also brought up at the Hughesville City Council meeting Monday night. For the most part it was discussion only because the council needs more information on the program. A sewer system is in the planning stages at Hughesville but the survey is not complete and there is no estimated date of completion.

The Concordia council agreed to pay off the balance remaining on a police car purchased by the city during the first part of the year. During the regular meeting, the council also agreed to allow Sunset Hills subdivision to install an "O" ring plastic water pipe, not to exceed 200 pounds minimum pressure. The current ordinance allows only cast iron pipes to be used but the ordinance will be revised in the near future to include plastic pipes meeting certain specifications.

On the basis of the proposed change, it was decided to allow Sunset Hills to use the plastic pipe. The council approved a motion to have Mayor I. Curtis Ellis organize a committee composed of persons from local organizations to present ideas on how revenue sharing might be utilized.

Another representative of the Show-Me Regional Planning Commission was guest speaker at the Green Ridge Council meeting Monday evening. Frank Schwartzer, Warrensburg, led a general discussion and question and answer period covering such topics as law enforcement, revenue sharing, and solid waste management.

The City Council at Sweet Springs met with the school board to complete the purchase of 1.35 acres of land to be used for a swimming pool adjacent to the football field in the south part of town. A contract was also agreed on to have Ralph Viebrock, 402 South Warren, Sedalia, replace a sewer line on Virginia Street for $4,400.

Tipton also had a city council meeting Monday evening but a spokesman at city hall refused to comment on what was discussed.

Sedalia Woman Is On Trial In Warsaw

(Democrat-Capital Service)

WARSAW — Gwendolyn Marie Staten, 20, 107 East Cooper, Sedalia, went on trial at Benton County Circuit Court here Tuesday on charges of felonious assault without malice and forgery, according to a spokesman for the Benton County circuit clerk's office. The trial was still under way at 1 p.m.

Miss Staten was granted a change of venue by Pettis County Circuit Judge Frank Meyer on both charges.

The forgery charge alleges that in May of this year Miss Staten passed a forged check, drawn on the Sedalia Bank and Trust Co., for merchandise at the C. W. Flower Co., 219 South Ohio.

The assault charge stems from a July 2 incident in which Miss Staten allegedly pulled a knife on Nina Hall, 15, 2901 Daryl Drive, in a restroom at the Highway 50 Drive-In Theatre.

She was free on bond at the time of the alleged assault.

Tax Payments Now Stand at $75,000

County Collector Raymond Wilder Tuesday reported approximately $75,000 in county taxes has been collected since the opening day of collections Nov. 13.

Wilder estimated nearly $2,500,000 remains to be collected before the Jan. 1 deadline.

Two Injured

Two Sedalia girls received minor injuries at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday when the car they were driving apparently went out of control and struck both guardrails on the Cedar Creek Bridge on Highway 65, 1½ miles north of Highways H and HH. The driver, Merrilee K. Hudson, 18, 1821 South Prospect, received lacerations of the hands and lips, and a passenger, Rebecca Mefford, 18, 1417 East Seventh, suffered minor bruises. They were treated at Bothwell Hospital and dismissed.

Station Attendant Victim of Robbery

Two men escaped on foot with an undetermined amount of cash after they held up an attendant at the Hudson Oil Co., 641 East Broadway, Monday night. No arrests have been made.

According to Tom DeFoe, Route 2, station attendant, two neatly-dressed Negro men in their 20's walked into the station about 9:20 p.m. and said they had "run out of gas."

DeFoe, who was in the front of the station with a friend, Dennis Kreisler, 703 West 23rd, at the time, told the two men he would go to the rear of the building for gasoline containers.

One of the men followed DeFoe into the rear room, where he ordered the attendant to "turn around, stay calm and give me your money." The other man stayed in the front room.

DeFoe said the man, who was armed with a pistol, took the money from a front pocket. A coin changer also was taken.

The two men then took DeFoe and Kreisler to a restroom at the side of the building. After taking DeFoe's car keys, the robber's ordered the two to remain in the restroom "for a couple of minutes."

After shutting the restroom door, the armed men fled on foot. DeFoe's car, which was parked at the station, was not taken.

DeFoe said he and Kreisler waited in the restroom for a couple of minutes, then called police, who arrived a short time later.

The service station was auditing its books Tuesday morning to determine how much was stolen.

Man Scheduled For Court Date

A Moberly man who is wanted in Pettis County on a bad check charge has posted bond in Chariton County Magistrate Court for an appearance at a preliminary hearing at Magistrate Court here Dec. 19.

Joe Phillip Latamondeer is charged in connection with an incident Aug. 26 in which he allegedly issued an insufficient funds check of $250 to Jack Newby, drawn on a Moberly bank.

Tuesday Magistrate Court here received the bond from Chariton County.

months ago. Broaddus added that he considered $40,000 "a very reasonable price" to pay for the structure.

The water company currently pays $370 a month rent for the building. Although permission for the purchase had to be granted by the council, funds for buying the building will come from water company revenue and not the city budget.

An ordinance was passed to prohibit parking on the north side of 15th from Washington to Lafayette and to limit parking to one hour on the east side of Engineer between Seventh and Broadway. The council also took action which unified all the city's speed laws into one ordinance.

The city will purchase a calculator for $475 from Mac and Jack Office Equipment, and an adding machine for $295 from Sedalia Typewriter and Adding Machine Co. as the result of recent bids. The purchase of a dump truck was awarded to Mike O'Connor Chevrolet-Buick-GMC, Inc., the only bidder, for $6,700. The bid included an automatic transmission. Hurlbut's Office Product Center was awarded a $23,176 bid for the office furniture in the new city hall.

Three bids on a dump truck for the Sewer and Sanitation Department were accepted. Bryant Motor Co., was the apparent low bidder at $5,695.99 with trade.

Bids on three other items were also taken. Nine bids each were taken on a snow plow and a salt spreader, while four firms bid on corrugated metal pipe needed before curb and guttering can be installed near the new junior high school. The bids on the truck and pipe were turned over to the Sewer and Sanitation Committee for acceptance of the best or lowest bid while the bids on the plow and spreader went to the Street and Alley Committee.

The council approved the installation of one new mercury vapor light and the installation of 10 others to replace current incandescent fixtures.

Chief William Miller asked that when bid invitations are sent in the near future concerning the leasing of police vehicles, the specifications include an alternate for air conditioning. Miller revealed of 38 respondents to a recent Northwest Missouri State University survey, only Sedalia had police cars without air conditioning.

The council accepted a resignation from Officer Russell Phillips.

An executive session followed the regular meeting, but Jones declined to reveal the topic, except to say that what was discussed will be elaborated on in upcoming regular sessions.

Special Meeting For Chamber Board

Chamber of Commerce President John B. Ellison Jr. declined to comment Tuesday on the resignation Monday of Chamber Manager Chuck Lawrence.

Lawrence announced his resignation in a statement in which he cited "differences of opinion in our ideas of policy, goals and directions," as the reason for his leaving the post.

Ellison said the Chamber board of directors will meet in special session later this month to discuss the situation but a date was not specified.

Asked what steps the Chamber will take to secure Lawrence's successor, Ellison said the Chamber of Commerce Executives of Missouri would be contacted and informed of the vacancy here.

He said that group circulates information pertinent to chamber managers throughout the state. Ellison added there was no specific length of time the Chamber might wait to hear from this group until other avenues of finding a successor are explored.

Ellison said he had no idea how long it would take to interview applicants and select someone to replace Lawrence.

Dallas Police Hold Sedalian

A Sedalia man has been charged in Dallas, Tex., with violation of a Texas narcotics statute, according to a spokesman for the Dallas Police Department.

Dallas police said Albert Leon Buford, whose Sedalia address is listed as 802 North Missouri, was arrested Sunday. The police department source said she did not have any additional information on the case.

Park Blvd. That building also houses maintenance facilities which require more storage space than presently is available. Beykirch said the remodeling work and moving would be done during the winter months.

Couts was authorized to purchase a bench grinder, drill press and five lawn mowers. The grinder and drill will be used in a workshop at the south end of the Centennial Park pool. Couts said park employes will use the workshop to maintain Housel and Centennial Parks. The work force stationed at Liberty Park will take care of the other city parks, according to Couts. He told The Democrat-Capital such a disbursement of labor would save time.

Ben Pummill reported on the Missouri Park and Recreation Association's convention held recently at Tan-Tar-A Resort on the Lake of the Ozarks. Monday's meeting marked the first session for newly appointed member Mrs. Glenn Lewis, the only woman on the board.

Session At Paris Canceled

PARIS (AP) — The negotiating session today between Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho was canceled this morning, but U.S. and North Vietnamese spokesmen said they would meet again Wednesday.

No explanation was given for cancellation of today's meeting. There was speculation that the announcement was a ruse to mislead newsmen, and that President Nixon's national security adviser and the Hanoi Politburo member were planning a secret rendezvous.

Eleven days ago during the last round of Kissinger-Tho negotiations, the North Vietnamese announced that the two men would not meet that day. But they slipped off to a suburban site and conferred for an hour.

Kissinger and Tho resumed negotiations Monday after a nine-day recess. They met for a total of five hours amid a complete news blackout. But officials in Washington said the talks are moving to a climax.

Tho and Xuan Thuy, the head of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks met this morning with Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the chief of the Viet Cong delegation to the talks, and other members of her delegation.

Kissinger conferred for an hour Monday night with Pham Dang Lam, the head of the South Vietnamese delegation to the talks.

Meanwhile, the South Vietnamese government kept up its campaign for the cease-fire agreement to include provision for withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam and safeguards to insure that the proposed National Council for Reconciliation and Concord won't turn into a coalition government.

These Saigon demands were outlined once again by South Vietnam's chief delegate to the weekly Paris peace talks, Pham Dang Lam, in a meeting with French journalists.

Despite South Vietnam's continuing insistence on these points, the belief was widespread that the United States is going to agree to the cease-fire this time, regardless of how little the North Vietnamese are ready to concede.

Cancel Meeting

The special congregational meeting which was to have been held this evening at St. Paul's Lutheran Church has been cancelled, according to Fred Lovercamp, congregation president.

The meeting has been rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Televised Report Denied

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — A Joplin television station report that several major oil companies plan to cease or curtail sharply retail gasoline operations in parts of the Midwest prompted denials by company spokesmen Tuesday.

Station KUHI reported Monday night the cutback could affect as many as 12 states, including Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and Arkansas.

It said Gulf had already announced a cutback.

The station said Shell, Standard, Mobil and Humble also were ready to close retail stations in the area.

In Kansas City, a spokesman for Mobil said the firm has "no current plans to get out of the Midwest," and said it appeared someone had "added two and two and come up with eight."

A spokesman for Standard in Kansas City said there was "no major change in operations that I know of" in the area.

Representatives of the firms in Iowa and Oklahoma also denied any plans to curtail retail operations.

The station reported Gulf Oil Co. had announced the closing of stations in the area valued at more than $230 million.

A Gulf spokesman in St. Louis confirmed the announcement had been made in October.

The Joplin station said an officer of a national advertising agency confirmed the oil firm he represents will stop advertising in the Midwest the first of the year.

Honduran Army Coup Is Peaceful

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The army coup in Honduras caused little surprise, no violence or large troop movements and only brief interruption in international telephone service as Gen. Oswaldo Lopez Arellano returned to the presidency.

Lopez, 51, who started his military career as an enlisted man, ousted President Ramon Ernesto Cruz, a 68-year-old lawyer, on Monday. Cruz was reported under house arrest, his wife and four children had gone to the United States on Sunday.

Honduras is a small, rugged Central American country with about 2½ million persons and an area about the size of Tennessee. It is one of the world's largest exporters of bananas, and the United Fruit Co. and Standard Fruit Co. have large holdings.

Rumors of a coup had been circulating for months. Military supporters of Lopez said he returned to power because the country's two political parties had failed to share the government, producing a "chaotic situation."

Lopez overthrew President Ramon Villada Morales in 1963 and two years later congress elected him to a six-year term as president.

The general could not legally run for re-election in 1971 and he inspired an agreement between the Nationalist and Liberal parties to divide the 64-seat Congress evenly. The balance of power was then to be held by the directly-elected president.

In the subsequent voting, Cruz became the first popularly elected president since 1932, and Lopez resumed command of the army. But almost as soon as Cruz took office, a dispute developed between the two political parties over the division of power.

Polly's Pointers

Freeze Brushes; Don't Clean Them

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is a time-saver for those who do decoupage. Instead of cleaning your paint brush after each coat of varnish wrap the brush in aluminum foil and put it in the freezer. When ready to use, just unwrap and begin to paint. This also is a mess saver. I have been told this also can be done with any paint. I read the Pointers every day, have used many of them and am so glad we have each other. — MRS. T.L.L.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — My daughter scribbled with a black magic marker pen all over my full-length mirror. Does anyone know how I can remove these marks? — M.P.K.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with those people who abuse the express checking privileges at the supermarkets. They are there for the convenience of those buying only a few things. The checker should be firm and refuse a big load. I just stood, with two items, behind a woman with a big load who might have been a friend or the checker may have wished to avoid an argument. This system is a great convenience when not abused and should be respected by both customer and checker. — MRS. T.

DEAR POLLY — I have used the following Pointer for years and find it a great help. The nylon scooters on the bottom of chair legs caused me trouble by scratching my floors and making the wax job look terrible unless it was done quite often. I bought one outdoor-indoor carpet tile square, cut it in circles and glued them to the bottom of my table and chair legs. The difference this made is surprising and one tile makes so many coasters. Even a real estate salesman remarked that I must wax my floors daily and told others about my idea. — MRS. K.M.H.

DEAR POLLY — Sprinkle cleanser in the sink and then use empty plastic bread wrappers to scrub and be surprised at the efficiency of this procedure. No ruined dishcloths as you discard the wrappers. — MRS. H. W. D.

Fruit Cake for Giving

Baking a fruit cake in a variety of containers, such as muffin pans, ovenware or molds, creates an excellent gift that even children can make with a little aid from an adult. For an extra touch, bake the cakes in molds that are also wrapped as part of the gift. (NEA)

Extension Council Plans Next Year's Activities

"Women Who Care," was designated as the theme for the Pettis County Homemaker Extension Clubs for the coming year, it was announced, following a planning meeting of the homemaker's council Wednesday at Broadway Presbyterian Church.

President-elect, Mrs. Georgia Chancey, program chairman, said lesson topics to be studied will include "Mrs. Fixit," "Poison Proof Your Home," "Sewing with Knits," and "Sewing for Men."

Committee goals approved by council members included county wide participation in the blood drive, monthly visitations to an area nursing home, participation in a quilt workshop, contact with international persons through letter or personal visitations, collection of food labels as a project to refurbish forests, a study of state government including a tour to Jefferson City and the selling of cookbooks comprised of recipes from extension club members as a money raising project.

Food-wise, dog's life not so good

When man bites dog food, that's some kind of news.

To get some idea of just what Americans are feeding their 32 million pets, to the tune of $1.5 billion a year, a food editor recently sampled 11 different brands of commercial dog food, ranging from biscuits to allegedly all-meat gunk.

His reactions ranged from "not bad" for the biscuits, especially when spread with a little butter, to "like concretized sawdust" for one brand of dry meal to "awful looking ... tasted foul" for one concoction of horsemeat chunks.

This is what is known as going beyond the call of journalistic duty.

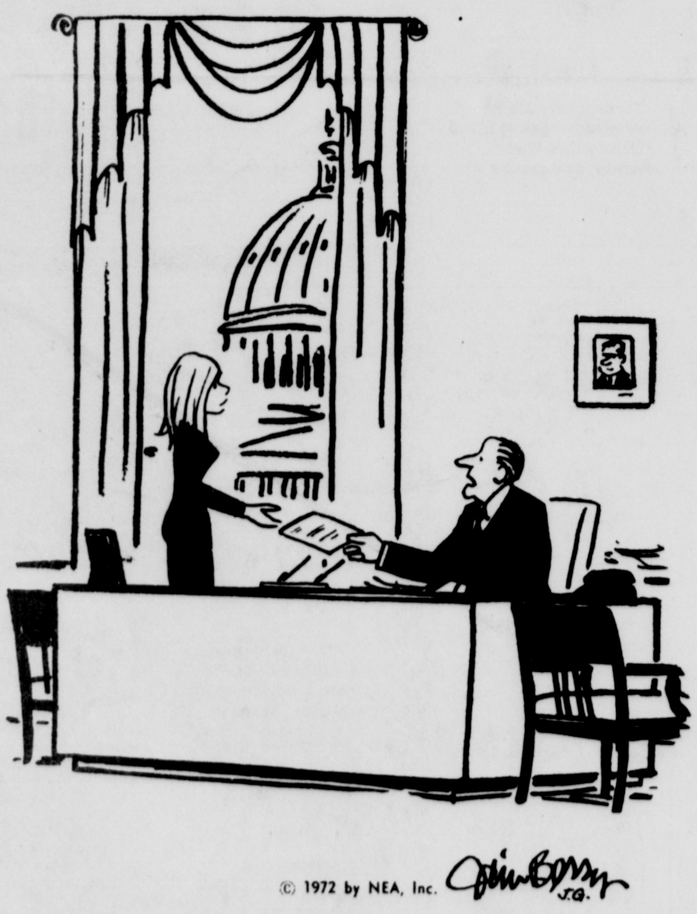

But it is not only in the matter of food that it's a dog's life. According to psychoanalyst K. Eileen Hite, among the abnormalities that man has perpetrated on the dog is depriving him of any decent kind of family life.

The psychoanalyst, who is also president of the Boston Terrier Club of New York, says that "most dogs live in family groups if they have an opportunity."

Yet what we've done to the dog is no more than what we've done to ourselves, she adds. In modern life, the male dog rarely gets a chance to see his offspring, and the human male is similarly isolated by virtue of being away all day.

Still, dad at least gets home once in a while. How many male dogs know where their children are?

About Nixon's mountain

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has just revealed to the country that he likes to work on a mountaintop at Camp David. He said it's easier to do his job on the mountain than it is in Washington where even a President can lose his perspective. What the President didn't add was that when a man is on the top of a mountain, he is very much closer to God.

"Richard — R-I-C-H-A-R-D."

Buchwald "Who's that?"

"It is I, Richard."

"Oh my God!"

"You've got it right. I have been watching you, Richard, and I'm disappointed. You had a big win. But what have you sacrificed to Me in thanksgiving?"

"My White House staff, three Cabinet officers and 16 newspapermen."

"For that kind of landslide, I expected more."

"I'm sorry. How about 14 U.S. ambassadors, 24 federal judges and the CBS news staff?"

"That's more like it, Richard."

"I'm in awe of Your presence. What do You want me to do?"

"Lead your people out of Vietnam."

"I've been working on it, Lord. When I first took office, there were 550,000 American troops there. Now there are only 19,000."

"I want them ALL out, Richard. Every last one of them. This war has gone on much too long as far as I'm concerned."

"Yes, Lord. I'll get them all out."

"And, Richard, I want you to stop the bombing."

"Stop the bombing? I can't stop the bombing!"

"Richard, a long time ago on another mountain I made a law, 'Thou shalt not kill.'"

"But there were no Communists then, Lord."

"Silence! I want the bombing stopped and I want peace—NOW."

"Yessir. If You will it, it will be done."

"The economy all right?"

"Just perking along, Sir."

"What about pollution?"

"My environmental people are working on it, Sir."

"I understand Congress voted to clean up the nation's waters, and you vetoed the bill."

"Yes, but they overrode my veto."

"Then why have you announced you will not give them the money they allocated for the job?"

"In all due respect, Sir, I'm against federal expenditures that exceed $250 million. Now if You can show me how I can clean up the waters, pay for all the social services and have a defense posture second to none, then I'll release the rest of the money."

"Water and air, Richard. Those are the most important things in life. Thou shalt not pollute."

"All right. I'll release the money."

"Now, one more thing. I want you to institute a National Health Plan so the people will be able to afford good medical care — and also I want all the tax loopholes closed."

"You've got to be kidding, Lord."

"If you don't do it, Richard, you'll be sorry — you'll be sorry — you'll be sorry — you'll be sorry — you'll be sorry — you'll be sorry — you'll be sorry — you'll be sorry — you'll be sorry."

"God, are you all right?"

"Please stand by. We are having trouble with our audio. You do not have to adjust your set."

Alarming increase in GI drug abuse

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Drug addiction among GIs in Europe has increased so alarmingly that the Army's European command fears "a raging heroin epidemic" by February.

The cause? President Nixon's crackdown on dope smuggling, it's believed, has compelled the smuggling rings to push their poisons in Europe. The easiest marks are bored and lonely GIs, who are looking for escape.

They get started on minor drugs like marijuana, then the pushers secretly add opiates to give an extra kick. Before the victim realizes it, he is hooked on heroin.

The grim facts are spelled out in several internal Army documents which we have obtained from Europe. Declares a typical report from the 8th Infantry Division:

"Through the last nine months, the inroads of drug abuse in the division have been phenomenal. In February, we saw mostly hash smoking in barracks areas. Gradually, there was an upsurge of hard drug use leading into the beginning of summer ...

"By mid-summer, drug use started to take on epidemic proportions at Rhine Kaserne in Wiesbaden, Lee Barracks in Mainz, and Anderson Barracks in Dexheim, in that order. Similar drug growth appeared at Coleman Barracks in Mannheim with significant heroin involvement surfacing.

"Concurrently, in both regional areas, there was a rather dramatic increase in the use of needles, particularly in the Coleman Barracks area where severe outbreaks of hepatitis (caused by using unsterilized needles) took place in late September and early October. In one case, an entire battalion at Coleman had to be inoculated against the development of infectious hepatitis with Gamma Globulin.

"The character of drug abuse continued to progress through the end of summer and beginning of fall with heroin appearing in all areas. Presently, there is strong evidence to support the theory that the progression of drug abuse through late spring and the summer was more deliberate than it appeared to be and took on the character of market cultivation.

"Some curious things happened. Street drugs turned in for laboratory testing tested out to have some strange properties. Some of the speed tested showed signs of cocaine and STP. Some hashish tested showed signs of strychnine, speed, and at times, opiates...

"At about the end of September, we started hearing about small but consistently received quantities of heroin coming into the Mainz, Baumholder, Bad Kreuznach and Mannheim areas. This heroin was not, and as far as we know, has not yet been dealt in quantity, but has been stashed to be dealt and pushed later ...

"Based on all of this, it appears that a rather elaborate effort at using middlemen and small time GI operators only, is in progress. A market for drugs seems to be under cultivation, which continually draws more people into the drug sub-culture. Certain drugs are being caused to be available at rather specific times. When successful, this situation creates the 'garbage head abuser' who will use any drug around or available.

"If this situation is permitted to develop further, we feel that between now and February a time will come when the market for drugs will be fully developed, but drug availability will dry up nearly completely. The dopers will not even be able to buy an aspirin from the illegal market.

"Some short time thereafter, cheaply priced heroin will be available, very possibly disguised as other drugs. If this happens, we will have come full circle with a raging heroin epidemic on our hands by February."

When we first warned in 1968 that drug use in Saigon was reaching epidemic proportions, the Pentagon denied it. The facts we had reported turned out to be all too true. For many veterans of Vietnam, the buddy poppy had a whole new meaning.

Now the military authorities are more candid. We spoke at length with Maj. Gen. John Singlaub, who is handling the drug problem for the Pentagon. He acknowledged that drug usage among the military has suddenly shot up from one per cent to five per cent in Europe, at the same time that addiction is declining in Southeast Asia and the United States. Indeed, an estimated 40 per cent of young GIs have tried drugs at least once.

We are convinced from our investigation that the armed forces are doing all in their power to bring the drug problem under control. Some of the methods, however, are unique.

Instructed one 8th Division document: "Get the hash heads to protect their hash by having them get rid of the hard drugs. When hard drugs are out, get the hashish out."

In the meantime, more of our boys in Europe are learning to stick needles in their arms.

A conservative view

The conservative philosophy and marijuana

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

WASHINGTON — In their current issue, the editors of National Review grapple with the matter of marijuana, but with deference to my conservative colleagues, I think they let the main conservative questions slip away.

Kilpatrick

The principal article, urging that marijuana be legalized, comes from Richard C. Cowan. Editors James Burnham and Jeffrey Hart take a generally opposing view. William F. Buckley Jr., editor-in-chief, flatly supports Cowan: "I for one find his arguments not merely plausible, but overwhelming."

On the face of it, this is an astonishing position to be taken by the nation's leading journal of conservative opinion. Yet if we are prepared to accept the validity of certain assumptions advanced by the proponents of pot, the position is not astonishing at all.

The question is deeply troubling, but it is not unusual. The same issues are involved in such matters as homosexuality and pornography. And if the problem is turned upside down, one finds the same principles, applied in reverse, in such diverse matters as the automobile air bag and the fluoridation of public water supplies. The problem is to define the proper role of government in a free society.

The conservative philosophy holds, if I understand it correctly, that within certain limitations, a free people should be just that: free. What are these limitations? They are the limitations fixed by the impact of my conduct on your rights. As a general proposition, conservatives hold that no human conduct should be prohibited by law unless that conduct causes positive harm to the innocent bystander or to society as a whole.

We see this proposition at work in a thousand ways. In theory, a man is free to build a glue factory; but he is not free to build it where it causes offense to his neighbors. The citizen is free to play his stereo; but he is not free to play it at full volume at 2 o'clock in the morning. A motorist is free to travel where he pleases, but he has to stop at the stop lines. An activist is free to harangue a crowd, but he cannot provoke a riot. And so on. In every instance, the test is simply the harm that is done.

When homosexuality was held in nearly universal abhorrence, a valid case could be made against the employment of homosexuals in sensitive government positions: They were subject to blackmail. The argument is of doubtful validity now. The justification for laws against pornography lies in the belief (a belief not susceptible to easy proof) that pornography corrupts society as a whole.

The other side of the proposition, as I say, lies in conservatives' hostility to laws that do not undertake to prohibit evil, but seek to compel good: the requirement for air bags, the fluoridation of public water supplies. But put those aside.

Getting back to the matter of marijuana: If criminal laws against the smoking of pot are to be justified, they have to be justified in terms of the harm that marijuana causes, not to the individual, but to society. There is some evidence, I understand, that marijuana tends to slow certain physical reactions, so that a driver under the influence of marijuana becomes a danger on the highway. Cowan flatly denies this. In any event, this is an argument against smoking-and-driving, not against smoking.

A second line of argument holds that the marijuana habit leads to heroin addiction; heroin is universally regarded as a serious social evil, imposing heavy burdens upon society as a whole. If this causative theory is true, this argument would suffice. Cowan and other serious students of the subject deny it absolutely.

These are the questions conservatives ought to be asking. Most persons of my generation are doubtless against marijuana. We equate it vaguely with sin and immorality. But I keep coming back to Mencken's law, that in the absence of provable social harm, when A undertakes by law to impose his moral values on B, A is a scoundrel. If conservatives are to be consistent in their philosophy, they probably should join Cowan and Buckley in urging that criminal sanctions against mere possession and use of marijuana be repealed.

Activities of SFCC Grads Studied

By SUSAN BULLOCK
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

The student personnel office at State Fair Community College recently completed a follow up study of its 1970, 1971 and 1972 graduates. Information was studied to evaluate whether the junior college met the needs of its graduates and what areas need to be changed in order to prepare graduates for employment or a four-year institution.

Questionnaires were sent to 221 graduates and results were compiled from 170 responses. Seventy-six per cent of the total number of the SFCC graduates said they had enrolled in a college or university. Full-time employment and marriage were indicated by graduates as the reasons for not continuing their educations.

Although 77 per cent of those who transferred to four-year institutions enrolled at Central Missouri State, Southwest Missouri State and North Missouri State Universities, or the University of Missouri at Columbia, 20 other colleges were also selected. Graduates tended to select medium-size midwestern or southern colleges, the study revealed.

Loss of credit hours and a lowering of accumulative grade point averages were two problems transfer students faced. However, 70 per cent of SFCC graduates indicated they lost no credit hours. Still, the study showed an average credit hour loss of 1.95 hours in the areas of basic English and mathematics. The report indicated students' accumulative grade point average dropped an average of .036.

Although grade point averages dropped because of the initial shock of a new environment, students did not change their majors. Elementary and secondary education and business and public administration were the three majors with largest enrollments, according to the study.

Eighty per cent of the SFCC graduates indicated that the information they received from counselors at SFCC was complete, and 19 per cent rated the information as "adequate."

The report outlined future goals in the areas of planning and counseling. "Counselors and staff members need to concentrate on planning programs of study carefully, because students transfer to a wide variety of institutions," it said.

The report concluded that the personnel office needs to provide job placement services for students who do not plan to continue their educations and to inform those students transferring to a four-year institution of what to expect and what will be expected of them.

Sees Bigger Budget

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird waved from the door of his plane Monday as he left Andrews AFB, Md., for NATO conferences in Belgium. Laird told newsmen before departing that the U.S. defense budget for next year would be increased to more than $80 million, primarily the result of more personnel. He said the increase was essential. Riley Has Denied Writs of Inmates

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Judge James T. Riley has denied the requests of two state penitentiary inmates for writs of habeas corpus.

The inmates seek an order releasing them or an order requiring the State Department of Corrections to show why they should not be released.

Charles H. Brady and Tony Borger charge cruel and unusual punishment but their petitions cited no specifics.

He denied the petitions Monday.

Brady's petition says he has served 53 months, including 18 months before he was sentenced to five years for burglary in Texas County.

Borger was sentenced to 15 years for armed robbery in 1961. He was paroled and arrested in Kelso, Wash., in 1968 for violating parole. He was sentenced to an additional five years.

Survive Drainage Incident

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "I kept thinking I wouldn't be living the next day," says Eddie Smith of his bumpy, frightening one-mile ride down a rain-swollen drainage ditch.

The 14-year-old boy and 11-year-old Diane Huston escaped with only bruises from their ordeal, according to a hospital nurse.

Eddie said he, three younger brothers and Diane went to the edge of the ditch after school Monday "to watch the running water."

Tommy Smith, 9, fell into the ditch and the other four climbed down to hoist him out. While trying to pull themselves back up again, Eddie and Diane lost their hold, fell into the water and were swept away by the fast-moving current.

As the younger boys ran alongside the ditch trying to keep the pair in sight, the two clung to each other, occasionally sinking completely under water. Twice they were swept through culverts beneath roadways. The second time, Eddie said, Diane was torn out of his arms.

Soon after the separation, the girl said, she grabbed a branch alongside the ditch and pulled herself out. Her companion caught hold of another branch about a quarter mile further down.

Both were taken to Sharp Memorial Hospital and treated for numerous bruises from rocks they struck as they were washed from one side of the ditch to the other.

Expanded Hours For Mail Users

The Sedalia Post Office has expanded its service window hours at the main post office during the Christmas season, according to Maurice Hogan, postmaster.

This Saturday and on Dec. 16 the service window will be open on the regular week-day hours — 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Sunday, and again on Dec. 17, the self-service technician will be on duty from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. to assist customers using the self-service unit in the post office lobby.

Dec. 11 through Dec. 15, the service window in the post office will be open from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. in addition to the regular hours.

Hogan said that postal patrons should separate "in town" and "out of town" Christmas cards and place them in bundles to speed the mailing process.

Heroin Attack Pledged

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The administration's top anti-drug official says President Nixon will make the war against heroin "the first order of business" in the next session of Congress.

Myles J. Ambrose, director of the federal office of Drug Abuse Law Enforcement, also told the National Association of Attorneys General on Monday that the administration has "a handle" on international heroin traffic.

However, he said, "If the rate of drug use growth of the 1960's continues, we will by the year 2000 be a nation of addicts."

Ambrose said diplomatic pressure from the United States on countries where opium is grown has created "the largest heroin shortage on the East Coast since World War II."

Ambrose blamed part of the drug problem on the courts.

"We have too many (pushers) who are released on bail too soon, or let go with a slap on the wrist," he said. "We can no longer afford to indulge in this nonsensical do-goodism."

U.S. Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst has said the administration will introduce bills to limit or deny bail to persons accused of drug pushing.

Hospital Birthday In Transplant Case

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Vincent Dobelman, Missouri's first heart transplant patient, spent his 45th birthday today at Firmin Desloge Hospital here, where he's been a patient since Nov. 11.

Dobelman, who received his new heart Feb. 8, returned to the hospital after complaining of chest pains. Since that time he has received drugs to prevent his body from rejecting the new heart.

Falcons Move Into 1st On Rams 26-16 Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Roman Gabriel's third-down magic, aided by some of Coach Tommy Prothro's trickery, was just too much for the San Francisco 49ers to handle.

"We would hold them for two downs, and on the third they'd get it," 49ers middle linebacker Ed Beard said.

That told the story of the Los Angeles Rams' 26-16 victory over San Francisco Monday night that made the Atlanta Falcons, 7-5, the new leaders in the National Football League's wildest race.

The 49ers fell from first in the National Conference West standings and into a second-place tie with the Rams at 6-5-1.

Things are sure to be shaken up again Sunday, when the Falcons meet the 49ers here and the Rams go to St. Louis to play the Cardinals on the next-to-last weekend of the season.

"I can't see us letting down the last two games," said Gabriel, who helped the Rams snap a three-game losing streak by throwing a pair of touchdown passes on third down plays.

The Rams made first downs on seven of 16 third-down situations. Four of the times they missed, David Ray followed with field goals, ranging from 12 to 42 yards.

Gabriel scrambled away from 49ers' rushers in the second period to fire a 26-yard touchdown pass on third-and-13 to tight end Bob Klein, sending the Rams ahead 10-9.

He sent running back Willie Ellison downfield on a third-and-five play in the third quarter that resulted in a 39-yard scoring play and a 23-9 Rams' lead.

The Los Angeles quarterback wasn't involved in his team's first third-down play of the game. Prothro called for "formation zero."

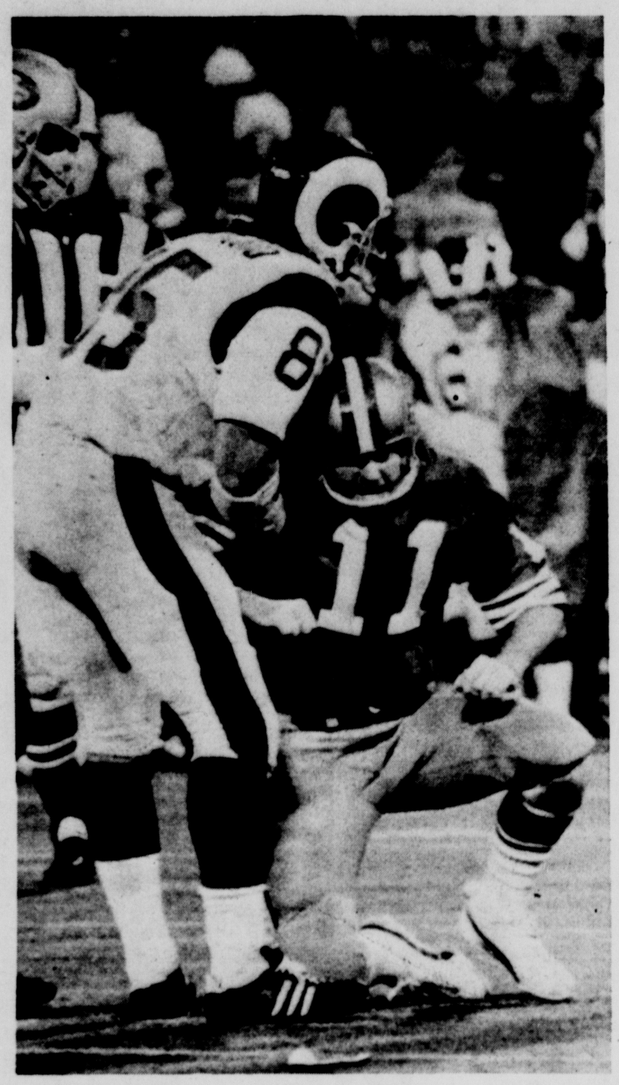

"I first saw that play in 1946 in a Memphis high school game. We run it about every three or four years," said Prothro, in only his second year as a pro coach.

With a third-and-seven at the 49ers' 34, running back Jim Bertelsen took a direct snap from center, faked a handoff to another back and ran for nine yards. Ray made the score 3-0 with his first field goal a few plays later.

Steve Spurrier, in his seventh game as the 49ers' starting quarterback, threw two touchdown passes to give him the NFL lead with 18. But three of his 46 throws were intercepted.

Veteran quarterback John Brodie, recovered from an ankle injury, was back in uniform but didn't play.

Spurrier had 257 yards passing. The touchdowns came on a six-yard pass to Ted Kwalick in the first quarter which put the 49ers ahead 6-3 and on an eight-yard pass in the third period to Gene Washington, who leads the NFL with 11 touchdown catches.

'Oh, I'm Sorry'

San Francisco quarterback Steve Spurrier is rubbery-legged as he is helped by the man who flattened him in the third quarter of Monday night's NFL clash in San Francisco. Los Angeles Rams' defensive end Jack Youngblood (85) shows that he can be a gentleman. Spurrier was shook for a moment, but managed to finish the game. However not in stylish form, as the 49ers lost, 26-16. (UPI)

Big 8 Cage Outlook

Tigers Look Tough

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Missouri may not post as good a record as last season but still may win the Big Eight Conference basketball championship.

This is the belief of Tiger Coach Norm Stewart, whose team last season won 21 and lost six for the best record in Missouri history.

The Bengals have been better every year since Stewart, a former Tiger star, arrived to take over the basketball-coaching chores five campaigns ago. They have a lot of talent back from the 1971-1972 season when Missouri wound up second in the Big Eight with a 10-4 mark.

Missouri's biggest star is John Brown, who was selected to the U.S. Olympic team last summer but did not make the trip to Munich because of a broken foot. Brown averaged 21.7 points and 10½ rebounds a game last season.

Two other starters are back, Al Eberhard and Mike Jeffries. Stewart also has a real find in sophomore Felix Jerman, who has quickly familiarized himself with the Tiger coach's way of doing things. Orv Salmon, a letterman, is the other starter.

Two other lettermen are Gary Link and Jerry Stock. One freshman, LaMont Turner, has seen considerable action in Missouri's three games to date, all won by the Tigers. Missouri has defeated Ohio University, Louisiana Tech and California Davis.

"There are some good points," Stewart says. "The fact that Brown, Jeffries and Eberhard are there is the main thing. The fact that Jerman is starting speaks for itself. He does show promise but like all sophomores, there's the matter of experience. I think he'll grasp it."

Stewart also thinks two sophomores, 6-foot-11 Gail Wolf and 6-9 Rick Atzen, both held out of competition last season, and junior Steve Blind will be a big help.

"I haven't been disappointed in anybody," Stewart says. "They're all different types, and they're all going to help us.

"We have only two or three people who were high on recruiting lists when they were in high school, and most of the other teams we play have many but our players still have achieved a high degree of success by playing hard and playing together. They've finished either second or third in the Big Eight the last three years."

Football Award To Dick Jauron

BOSTON (AP) — The Gridiron Club of Greater Boston said Monday it has selected Dick Jauron of Yale as the 34th winner of the Bulger Lowe award as the outstanding college football player in New England.

Jauron, a running back, was the first Yale player to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season and set a school career yards rushing record of 2,947 yards..

Austin Books USAC Stockers for May 6

Bill Austin, Lone Jack, president of Professional Auto Racing Promotions of Missouri, signed a contract with Missouri State Fair Secretary W. C. Askew Monday to present a 100-mile United States Auto Club late model stock car race at the State Fairgrounds, next May.

Austin, who headed an unsuccessful USAC stock effort last spring, said that his only intention at the present time was to "give the auto racing fans of mid-America the finest stock car show at a reasonable price."

Austin went on to say that he felt that the "mile track has a lot more prestige than does the half-mile track here. I think racing fans enjoy stocks more on the mile rather than on the half." The race is set for May 6.

The scheduled race will be the fifth in the past three years featuring the USAC drivers. All previous attempts have either fallen victim of bad timing, high prices or weather, according to a number of Indianapolis, Ind., sources.

Last year's race, which was put on by Austin's organization, had one of the largest advance ticket sales ever for any non-State Fair race. But less than 24 hours before the race, it started raining and didn't stop for three days.

In an effort to salvage the 100-lap feature on the half-mile oval, Austin decided to race a week later. Again rain and cold temperatures made the attempt a virtual failure.

"Surely the weather can't always be against us," added Austin, who was once the owner of Lenny Funk's Ford stocker. Funk, Otis, Kan., was a noted Midwestern driver, who drove in races in the 1950's and '60's.

Although plans for the race are not yet complete, Austin said that the guaranteed purse will be $15,000, making it one of the largest stock car purses ever offered for a race on the State Fair's mile dirt track.

"In addition to all the USAC stock car regulars," Austin continued, "we hope to get some drivers from some of the nation's other top stock car associations." However, Austin declined to say if any of them had been contracted.

Austin's first attempt with USAC and the Missouri State Fair track was on the half-mile track. The purse for the 1972 race was $10,000.

Race, Atlas Featured On Wednesday's Card

Hard-hitting Harley Race will attempt to regain the Central States title when professional wrestling is presented Wednesday night in the Convention Hall ring. A four-match card will get underway at 8:15.

Race will challenge the new regional kingpin, Omar Atlas, over the best of three falls. To get the match, Race put up $200 as a guarantee for the champion.

Steve Bolas, a Canadian wrestler, will be in action in the semifinal. Bolas is pitted against the masked Destroyer.

Midgets and heavyweights will join together in the tag event. Les Thornton will side with midget Bobo Johnson to form one of the units. The other will be made up of Benny Ramirez and Little Bruiser.

Scheduled in the opener are Bruiser and Johnson.

Two Jeff City QB's Named

Two Repeat on All-State Teams

Two high school players from the 1971 All-State Football Team have repeated on this year's squad announced Tuesday morning by the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association.

The two, Mark Gordon of Nevada (Class AAA) and David Tippen of Kennett (Class AAA), headed the four squads, selected each year by the association.

Two players from Jefferson City were named from the Central Missouri Conference. Steve Loyd and Stan Wallace, an offensive tackle and a quarterback respectively, received the honor. They were the only players from the CMC to be named.

Jefferson City Helias, who lost their bid for the 1972 Class AAA championship, placed four players on the team. End Carl Vogel, who set a number of records for the Crusaders, and quarterback Randy Bickel, who also set a number of records, headed the AAA selections.

Also named from Helias were Wayne Kuebler and Dan Bacon on defense.

Also from this area were Warrensburg's Rick Banta, a AAA tackle; Warrensburg University High's Ken Briscoe and Mark Foster, two players who led the Colts to the Missouri State High School Activities Association's Class A title; offensive guard Olin Structemeyer of Higginsville in Class AA; and standout Fulton Hornets' runningback Cecil Brandt (Class AAA).

To be eligible for a position on the all-state teams, player must have received mention on one of the state's all-district teams.

Referee Johnny Lebianco jumps to grab Ken Buchanan of Scotland after the Scotsman had just knocked down Chang Kil Lee of Seoul, Korea, in the second round of their lightweight bout in New York, Monday night. Lee got to his feet and tried to continue, but Lebianco stopped the one-sided contest when every punch Buchanan threw landed with power on the defenseless Korean.

AL's Official Pitching Statistics Are Released

BOSTON (AP) — Luis Tiant of the Boston Red Sox, Gaylord Perry of the Cleveland Indians and Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox shared honors today in official, American League records announced by President Joe Cronin.

Tiant, a right-hander picked up by the Red Sox after many considered his career ended because of arm trouble in 1971, won the earned run average for the second time with a 1.91 mark.

Tiant, who led the league with a 1.60 ERA with the Cleveland Indians in 1968, had a 4-4 mark until promoted to a regular starting job last August. He came close to pitching the Red Sox to the East Division title, compiling a 15-6 record with six shutouts.

Perry, acquired from the San Francisco Giants after the 1971 season, had a spectacular year for Cleveland. He compiled a 24-16 record, sharing the most victories honor with Wood, who topped the league with 29 complete games and compiled a 1.92 earned run average.

Wood, the White Sox' knuckleball artist, had a 24-17 record. He led the league in most starts (49), most innings (377) since Ed Walsh's 393 in 1912, hits allowed (325), most batters faced (1,384), runs surrendered (119) and earned runs given (105).

Reliever Paul Lindblad of the Texas Rangers was the American League's busiest pitcher, making 66 appearances. However, Sparky Lyle of the New York Yankees was the bullpen standout with 35 saves, breaking the record of 34 set by Minnesota's Ron Perranoski in 1970.

Nolan Ryan of the California Angels was the league's strikeout king with 329, the most since Bob Fellers' 348 in 1946. Ryan also set a record by fanning eight Boston batters in a row July 9, and led the league with nine shutouts.

Oakland's Jim Hunter had the best percentage, .750 with a 21-7 record. Other 20-game winners were Baltimore's Jim Palmer (21-10), Detroit's Mickey Lolich (22-14), and Chicago's Stan Bahnsen (21-16).

There were 193 shutouts, breaking the record of 164 set in 1971.

Baltimore led the team earned run average with a mark of 2.53. Oakland's champion Athletics were second with 2.58, followed by Minnesota with 2.84.

Volleyball Tournament Opens Play

(Democrat-Capital Service)

COLE CAMP — Cole Camp, an upset winner just last week over first-seeded Stover in the volleyball championship of the Warsaw Invitational Tournament, has advanced to the semifinals of the Cole Camp Volleyball Tournament. The Blue Birds downed Smithton, 28-26.

In other senior high school division action, Stover posted an easy win over Warsaw, 31-16.

In junior high school competition, Smithton defeated host Cole Camp, 33-23; Stover blasted Warsaw, 43-19.

Three games are scheduled tonight. LaMonte takes on California in senior high play at 7 p.m.; Lincoln and Green Ridge meet at 9 p.m. in the night's only other senior high contest.

In the junior high division, Lincoln and Green Ridge meet at 8 p.m.

Next Year's Outlook

Big 8 May Be Tougher

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Big Eight Conference, which has five 1972 football teams playing in bowl games, may be even better in 1973.

The coaches of the three clubs which won't play in bowls indicated as much Monday when they arrived in Kansas City for a conference meeting.

Don Fambrough, of Kansas, 4-7 this year, said: "We'll be a better team. I feel we'll do all right next season."

Dave Smith of Oklahoma State, 6-5: "We've got a lot of people coming back. I think we can get better."

And Vince Gibson of Kansas State, 3-8, the worst in the league: "I sort of lost my stinger. We didn't have the physical and mental toughness. My pride's hurt. I'm embarrased. I'm cranked up now."

The other Big Eight coaches were on hand and mapping plans for the bowl appearances which state Dec. 18 when Iowa State faces Georgia Tech in the Liberty Bowl.

Johnny Majors, the Iowa State coach, predicted flatly:

"We're gonna win."

Then, he added:

"We gotta get ready. We'll do some running Thursday and put on the pads Monday."

Asked if he thought the Cyclones' early bowl bid contributed to Iowa State's loss of three straight games, Majors replied:

"I don't know. I don't think so."

Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks, whose team plays Penn State in the Sugar Bowl Dec. 31, described the Sooners' New Year's Eve opponent as "one of the best football teams in the nation. We've got to play to win."

Fairbanks also said he thought the Sooners have a chance of becoming the nation's No. 1-ranked team, that Oklahoma would be able to play next year despite the loss of its four backfield starters and that quarterback Dave Robertson was a major key in the team's success.

"There's a chance we'll be No. 1," Fairbanks said. "No one is immune to losing. It's purely a mythical national championship. Everybody doesn't go through an elimination process. It's not practical.

"This is college football which must live within the framework of education. College is not just a place to play football. The trouble is everybody, including the alumni, take the national championship to be a real championship which it is not."

The Sooners, third ranked, the conference champion and 10-1 this year, said Oklahoma has "some good players to rebuild with."

Fairbanks said if he had to single out one player "who was responsibile for our success, it would have to be Dave Robertson. A high percentage of people across the country throught we would not be able to get the job done with Dave Robertson at quarterback.

"He has confidence he can move the ball. His job of leading our team at quarterback has been outstanding as far as I am concerned."

Fairbanks, asked how top-ranked Southern California would get along in the Big Eight, replied:

"If Southern California was playing in our league, there's a pretty good chance they would have been beaten."

Coach Al Onofrio of Missouri, looking forward to the Tigers' Dec. 18 Liberty Bowl game with Arizona State University, asserted that "Arizona State has the quickest offensive football team in the United States."

Onofrio also said the turnabout the Tigers did in midseason "was the best thing that's ever happened to me. That Saturday (Oct. 21 when Missouri beat Notre Dame) has been the best Saturday in my football life."

Eddie Crowder of Colorado said he sent a scout to view the Auburn-Alabama game last week "and he wishes he hadn't gone." The scout saw Auburn upset second-ranked Alabama 17-16. Colorado plays Auburn in the Gator Bowl Dec. 30.

Crowder also predicted next year's Big Eight race "will be a real dogfight. There'll be more balance in the conference."

Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney was represented by Tom Osborne, the Cornhuskers' assistant head coach, who will succeed Devaney right after the team's Jan. 1 Orange Bowl game with Notre Dame.

Osborne, just back from watching Notre Dame lose 45-23 to Southern California, said he was "quite impressed" by the Irish. "I was surprised by the way Notre Dame was able to move the ball against USC.

"By the time our game rolls around, I think we'll be ready."

Osborne was asked how it felt to succeed Devaney, one of the nation's most successful college coaches, and whether Devaney, who will devote his time exclusively to the athletic directorship, might be prying around in the coaching of football.

"It's a tough act to follow," Osborne said. "In a way, I'd just as soon he'd meddle around a little. Anybody who has won 90 per cent of his games . . ."

Time for a Change

Bob DeMoss Quits Purdue Grid Job

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — It was "the hardest decision of my life—but right now I'm not a bit sorry I made it," said Bob DeMoss, who resigned Monday as head football coach at Purdue after a three-year record of 13-18.

DeMoss submitted his resignation after a "frustrating" season that saw the Boilermakers drop their first three games, then roar back to finish third in the Big Ten with a 6-2 record.

The 45-year-old coach, who has been associated with Purdue for 23 years, decided it was time to make a change.

"There was absolutely no pressure on me to resign," he said. "I just decided it wasn't fair to my family to devote so much time to football and so little time to them.

"Last Wednesday night was the first time my wife (Janet) and I really talked about it. I went in to see (Athletic Director) George (King) Friday and asked him if there was some other job available at Purdue for me. There was and I made the decision to get out of coaching," DeMoss said.

King named DeMoss assistant athletic director but said, "I don't know exactly what his work will entail because we haven't had time to work up a job evaluation."

Penn Valley Visits State Fair Tonight

The State Fair Community Roadrunners return to the Agriculture Building on the Missouri State Fairgrounds tonight for the first time since Nov. 18 against Penn Valley Community College of Kansas City at 8 p.m.

State Fair, 2-5 on the season, dropped four straight games on the road before rebounding for an 86-61 win over Cloud County, Kan., Friday night in the opening game of the Hutchinson, Kan., Community Junior College Doubleheader. However, Saturday night, they dropped a 91-90 double-overtime contest to the host Blue Dragons.

"We have played our best two games this season against a couple of the nation's top teams (Vincennes University and Hutchinson) by not running ... using more of a patterned attack," said SFCC coach Bill Barton. "And I expect that's what we'll do tonight. They (Penn Valley) have some good talent, although I don't think that they are as quick at the guard positions as they have been in the past," he added.

Another thing that the Roadrunners will rely on is their defense, which has been on the upswing in the last four games. "We have made a lot of improvement defensively since the first of the season," said the third-year State Fair mentor. "We'll have to have another fine defensive effort out of our kids tonight if we are to win."

The Roadrunner's two main worries tonight will be stopping the scoring of 6-4 Bob Caldwell and 6-3 C. J. Cooper, the Scouts' top scorers. Both are averaging around 18 points and rank high on the region's scoring list.

Another player who will get a lot of attention is 5-11 guard James McMurry, who quarterbacks the Scouts offensive attack.

The balance of the Penn Valley lineup will be made up of either Pat Murphy, Larry Mack or John Hocaver.

Barton will counter with the team's leading scorer, 6-6 Charles Shell; 6-7 Lewis Busch, who has started to do the bulk of rebounding; and 6-3 forward Colles Webb on the front line.

In the back court will be sophomore Brent Yates and freshman Jack Easley.

The Roadrunners and Penn Valley split last year in their home-and-home engagements; each won on their own court.

Following tonight's contest, the State Fair cagers will hit the road again for a Thursday night contest at Trenton Junior College. Saturday night SFCC hosts Jefferson County College of Hillsboro, Mo.

Opening lead—♦ J

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South won the diamond lead with dummy's king and led a low heart. East played the eight and South won the trick. He played his ace of diamonds; ruffed his last diamond in dummy and threw East in with the ace of trumps.

East led the five of clubs and after a slight amount of thought, South played his seven-spot. West took his ace and shifted to a spade, but the defense had all the tricks they were going to get. South rose with dummy's ace; led a club to his king and since East's queen of clubs had fallen, South was able to return to dummy with the 10 of trumps and get rid of his last spade on dummy's club jack.

Do you see why South elected to play the seven of clubs? No, it wasn't because East held the queen and not the ace. It was because when South Reviewed the bidding he remembered that East had passed in second seat.

East had shown up with the ace of hearts and was marked with the queen of diamonds. If he didn't hold the king of spades, South was sure of his contract. If he did hold the king of spades, he couldn't also hold the ace of clubs but might hold the queen.

Therefore, when South played the low club he had given himself the best chance to make his contract.

You, South, hold:

What do you do now?

A—Bid six hearts. You have little interest in seven since your partner bid just three no-trump at his second turn to act.

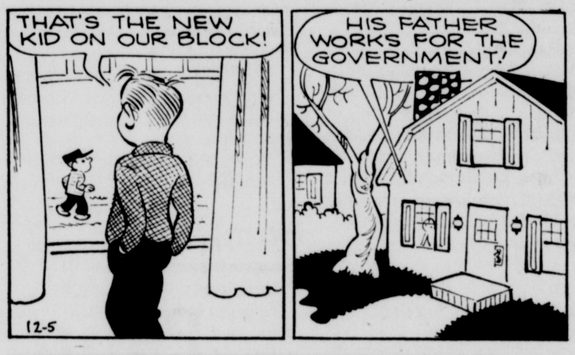

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three no-trump, your partner has bid three clubs over your two spades. What do you do now?

Missouri Moonshine?

There was a time when a steaming vessel of grain in rural Missouri indicated that moonshiners were cooking a fresh batch of white lightning. That is not the case this year, however, as Richard Gentges, left, Loose Creek, and Robert Schmitz, Bonnots Mill, are drying soybeans in the bottoms of the Missouri River country near Tebbetts. The big grain dryer is heated by liquid gas. Weather has been so wet this fall that those farmers who could harvest their beans have found them too wet to store. (UPI)

Officer Outlines Need Areas

Joseph Carroll, Marshall police chief and immediate past president of the Missouri Police Chief's Association, traced the history of organized police departments since 1829, when Sir Robert Peele founded the first department in London, England, up to the present time in a prepared talk presented to Sedalia Rotary Club members Monday noon at Hotel Bothwell.

Chief Carroll stated he would like to see the following improvements in law enforcement agencies in the state:

(1) Establishment of a Missouri Bureau of Investigation organized under the attorney general's office; (2) a return to the constitutional guarantee of a speedy trial, which would help in crime prevention; (3) an enlargement of police departments to put more law enforcement officers on the streets for the prevention of crime and as a result have less need for correction; (4) adoption of minimum standards legislation for the hiring of police officers; (5) consolidation of law enforcement services for better law enforcement, for exchange of information, for the prevention of crime, and (6) for law enforcement departments to earn and receive wholehearted support, rather than lip service, from the public they serve.

Following his talk, Chief Carroll and Sedalia Police Chief William Miller, who was a guest of the club, fielded questions concerning law enforcement, department organization and pay scales for their respective law enforcement departmental personnel.

Carroll, who is also president of the Marshall Rotary Club, was introduced by Ed Mitchell, December program chairman.

Guests, in addition to Chief Miller, were Lee Offutt, a Rotarian from Pleasanton, Kan.; Louis Walch, with his brother, Harry Walch; and the Rev. Milton Elmore, with Wayne Stackhouse.

Pat O'Connor was introduced as a new member of the club by Firmin Boul. He will fill the membership classification held by his father until his death earlier this year.

After a roll call report, Charles Hofheins, club president, announced that approximately 130 members, their wives and guests will attend the club's annual Christmas party at the Holiday Inn Dec. 18.

Immunity Possible But Not As a Cure

Dear Dr. Lamb — Some time back I read an article on cancer which stated that a substance could be injected into the cancer cell, arresting it. Is this process available to the public? I read the article with interest but did not know I would be personally interested. My husband is in his late 30s and we have a small child. He had a malignant tumor removed from his colon, but the doctor said it had already spread to two small spots on his liver. This has been three months ago. What can you say about this process and is there any possibility that this process could be available to my husband, and would it work on the liver?

Dear Reader — You must be referring to the work of Dr. Edmund Klein of Boswell Memorial Institute in Buffalo, New York. He has been doing research on treating breast cancer and skin cancer. He did inject a substance directly into the tumor cells. The substance he used was tuberculin, the same substance used for skin testing for tuberculosis. The reason the skin test works is that a person who has been exposed to tuberculosis develops an immunity to it and when you inject the tuberculin material in the skin the body's immune system causes a reaction.

Dr. Klein has taken advantage of this principle by injecting tuberculin into the tumor and then the body's immune system mobilizes and causes a reaction in the tumor. If the body's immune reaction is severe enough, it will literally reject the tumor cells. He has had some early success in the treatment of patients with breast cancer and skin cancer with this technique. It is still in the research phases and after the initial encouraging results in a small series of breast and skin cancers, it will no doubt be tested in other forms of cancer.

Cancer of the colon is a fairly common disorder. It is much more common in modernized nations such as the United States than it is in undeveloped countries. Many investigators think this is due to the differences in our diet, pointing out that we tend to eat large amounts of concentrated foods such as sweets and bakery products and do not get as much roughage in our diet as is obtained by individuals who eat natural foods such as unprocessed cereals, vegetables and raw fruit.

Our refined foods often move rapidly through the small intestine and remain in the colon a long time. In part because of lack of bulk. The end result is an increase in constipation (leading to the ill-advised laxative habit, and irritable colon) and an increased incidence of diverticulosis and even colon cancer. There are other factors, of course, besides food.

One of the best signs of cancer of the colon is an unexplained change in bowel habits. If a person starts developing recurrent diarrhea or suddenly develops constipation, he should seek medical attention immediately. If cancer of the colon is detected before it has spread, it can often be totally removed and permanently cured. As in most other types of cancer the earlier the detection the greater the likelihood of successful treatment.

Some VIPs To Attend 17 Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, actress Eva Gabor, comedian Bob Hope and 130-year-old Charlie Smith, who still doubts man can walk on the moon, top a list of space agency VIP's who will watch the Apollo 17 launch in person.

A record 42,000 people will watch the launch Wednesday night as guests of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the White House, State Department and other government agencies.

Among them are 200 congressmen, 59 foreign dignitaries, 81 ambassadors, 2,400 newsmen, dozens of Hollywood stars and social luminaries who have reserved seating for the liftoff.

Smith, who retired as a orange picker in the central Florida town of Bartow at the age of 113, will be chauffeured to the moonport where he has a grandstand seat.

"He doesn't fully understand just what the rocket launch is all about," said Frank Duerr, a social security worker who knows Smith well. "He still doesn't think people can go to the moon and walk on it."

Santa Claus Standards Are Becoming Tougher

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Santa Claus standards are higher than ever this season, and old St. Nick himself might have a tough time getting hired by department stores.

So says Tressa Houck, operator of a Santa Claus employment service for four years in Palo Alto, just south of San Francisco.

"There are black Santas, bilingual Santas and Santas of all sizes and shapes," said Mrs. Houck, whose Western Girl agency has placed more than 400 Santas around the county over the years.

In an average day, she said, Santa may interview 1,200 children.

For the $3 an hour they are paid, the fat, jolly gents she hires are expected to work six days a week; avoid smoking and drinking like the plague; eschew drugs, even prescription types; roll out the Santa-spiel endlessly — and be prepared for the worst.

Some kids get so excited they wet their pants — and Santa's — while telling Mr. Kringle what they want for Christmas.

"We always keep a spare pair of pants handy," said Mrs. Houck.

College-age men make the best Santas, she said, because "they get along best with children and can take the wear and tear."

"It's not easy. They need a mother's patience, a child's wonderment and most importantly they've got to believe in the spirit of Christmas."

And each little kiddie gets the same speech with the precision of the guard-change at Buckingham Palace.

Says Santa, "Hello, there, young man (or young lady). Been about a year since I've seen you. Come over and see your old buddy, Santa Claus."

Then comes the tough part, said Mrs. Houck. "Santas are taught to handle children like fragile China, and to use the word 'folks' instead of mother or father. So many children don't live with their original parents."

The big moment arrives when the child gets to recite the gift list, she said. Then Santa musters up his saintliest qualities to "listen, listen ... and listen some more. Then encourage the child to eat vegetables, drink milk, brush his teeth and go to bed on time."

All, she said, "without promising a thing."

Harvest Activity Picks Up

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Two full days of suitable weather for field work picked up Missouri's lagging harvest last week, the state Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Monday.

The report said harvesting resumed in most areas — particularly in higher fields and those which had frozen — and fall plowing also was resumed as fields became more solid in some regions.

Wheat was reported mostly in good condition statewide, with soil moisture listed as 27 per cent adequate, 73 per cent surplus.

The report by crops:

Corn — Harvest gaining momentum, reaching 62 per cent completion, with nearly 100 per cent completed in the Bootheel.

Soybeans — Harvest 59 per cent complete after substantial progress during the week. The Bootheel is lagging behind other areas.

Grain sorghum — 67 per cent harvested with north central and northwest sections behind others. Near 90 per cent completion in Bootheel.

Cotton — 58 per cent picked. Harvest continued last week but was limited by muddy fields.

The service announced it was discontinuing comparison figures for the rest of this season because the harvest was virtually complete by this time last year.

Suit Challenges Election Results

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A circuit court hearing has been tentatively scheduled Dec. 14 on a suit brought by John L. Woodward, who lost an election for prosecuting attorney of Crawford County.

Woodward contends the winner, Republican Larry W. Dent, was not a resident of the county for 12 months, as required by law.

Woodward, a Democrat, has requested a preliminary prohibition to prevent Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick from certifying Dent as elected.

The secretary of state begins his official canvass of election results Dec. 12.

Wallace Planning To Attend Session

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An aide to Gov. George C. Wallace says if Wallace attends the Democratic National Committee meeting in Washington this Saturday, his primary objective won't be to oust Jean Westwood as party chairman.

Mickey Griffin, who has manned a Wallace office in Washington in preparation for the committee meeting, said Monday Wallace is more interested in obtaining spots for some pro-Wallace members of the Democratic National Committee on major committees.

In a letter mailed from Montgomery Monday, Wallace urged the committee to put aside political differences and work to reflect the common thoughts of average citizens.

Conditional Plea To Murder Charge

SIDNEY, Iowa (AP)—Darryl Allen, 24, has entered a conditional plea of not guilty to an open charge of murder.

Allen, from Wyandanch, Long Island, N.Y., entered the plea in Fremont County district court Monday.

He is charged in connection with the slaying of Sharon Louise Barnett, 21, Tarkio, Mo., whose body was found last October near Imogene.

Allen was bound over to the January court term. He is being held in the Page County jail, Clarinda, in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Prominent Republican Criticizes Committee

By CARL LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A top Republican official has given GOP governors a highly critical account of the way managers of President Nixon's re-election committee are continuing to treat the high command of the Republican National Committee.

Cochairman Thomas Evans made clear in his speech to a closed luncheon at the Republican Governors Conference Monday that he feels that the "high handed" treatment of the RNC that he said marked the campaign is continuing in the post-election period. His attack produced some surprise from governors who told newsmen later they had not realized the extent of the friction between officials of the party's national committee and those of the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

After a working breakfast today with aides, the governors plan to tour for the remainder of the day.

Evans said he felt the RNC has failed to receive proper credit for its work in the campaign and said he was particularly annoyed at a letter from Maurice Stans, finance chairman of both the RNC and CRP, directing committee officials to appear Dec. 15 with a proposed budget for the following year.

Those at the luncheon said that Evans, who left here for Washington shortly afterwards, told them he was unsure whether he could meet that deadline and objected to the idea of being summoned before Stans.

However, National Chairman Robert J. Dole told newsmen he didn't feel as strongly as Evans about having to go before Stans because "after all, he's got the money." He added that "I understand it is still coming in" to the re-election committee.

The Kansas senator told a news conference earlier Monday that the Republican National Committee would end the year with a debt of probably $200,000, adding that "hopefully, there might be a little money transferred" from the re-election group.

Evans' comments followed a proposal by the two senior Republican governors, New York's Nelson A. Rockefeller and Colorado's John A. Love, that the semiannual meeting of GOP governors concern itself more with politics and less with governmental problems such as revenue-sharing.

Gov. Linwood Holton of Virginia, scheduled to become chairman of the Republican Governors Association at the close of the present meeting, told reporters he also favors greater emphasis on politics and hopes the group can play a bigger role in party activities.

The stress on politics at the closed luncheon was in marked contrast with Monday's formal program, featuring two panels on states' relations with federal and local government, and a breakfast with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew that concentrated almost entirely on governmental matters.

Night Launching Time Means Blind Practice

By NICK TATRO
Associated Press Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The nighttime launch of Apollo 17 on Wednesday has meant "blindfold practice" for the specially trained Air Force crews assigned the job of rescuing the astronauts if the moon mission is aborted.

An hour before the 9:53 p.m. EST liftoff, the "beach boss" — Lt. Col. Raymond A. Boyd — will be in the air aboard one of four helicopters hovering in stacked formation about five miles north of the launch complex.

Three HH53 choppers, known as Jolly Green Giants, will be poised to dispatch crews of doctors, firefighters, frogman and hatch opening specialists to find the command module on land, in a swamp or in the Atlantic Ocean.

"Our response time is 30 minutes," said Boyd, 51, A Vietnam veteran.

Within a half-hour from the time the mission is aborted, Boyd said, the helicopter teams can find the capsule, drop the pararescue team and retrieve the astronauts.

"Our biggest problem at night, of course, is visibility," Boyd said. "We have had very extensive training for night sea recovery not only for Apollo 17 but for Skylab."

Rescue at sea is the most probable, extracting the astronauts from an overturned command module in marshes near the Cape is the most difficult, Boyd said.

To compensate for a lack of visibility Boyd has added two Army UL1 helicopters with powerful xenon search lights that illuminate 1,000 square feet of ground.

At sea, new procedures and an extra copter have been added for the first nighttime launch of a U.S. manned space flight.

"In the daytime the pararescue men can jump out of the helicopter but at night the pilots have no depth perception — they can't tell if they're five feet or 30 feet above the water," Boyd said.

So, the three-man teams trained as frogmen will be lowered in nylon mesh webs. The other two helicopters will drop flares to provide light and smoke flares to determine the wind direction.

In all, there are 84 men assigned the job of helping rescue the three astronauts should it be necessary. Nine have the responsibility of getting the astronauts safely out of the capsule.

One of the pararescuers is Sgt. Transito Trujillo of Tucumcari, N.M., who admits there is an element of danger in working at night.

To Study Significance Of Last Apollo Effort

NEW YORK (AP) — As the Apollo astronauts prepare to board their spaceship for the moon, dozens of philosophers and futurists will be studying the significance of the flight aboard a ship at sea.

A seminar on space, called "Voyage Beyond Apollo: A conference on the total environment and the future of civilization" will be held on the S.S. Statendam.

The ship set sail from New York Monday evening and will arrive off Cape Kennedy in time for the launch Wednesday night.

Scientists and writers like Norman Mailer and Katherine Anne Porter and other ship passengers will have a chance to listen in on discussions about "Interstellar Communication," "Ecological Intelligence."

Miss Porter said she hadn't been on the boat long enough to draw any parallels yet with her last book, "The Ship of Fools." She said she plans to write an article for Playboy magazine about the Apollo 17 cruise.

"I'm taking the seminar for my own education because I haven't really paid much attention to these space shots from the scientific angle," she said. "Man in his restlessness has always been trying to leave terra firma. What is it that makes life so difficult on earth that man always wants to get away?"

Miss Porter, 82 years old, confided that she never thought she'd still be alive this year "so this moon shot and trip is very exciting for me."

Mailer, wearing a suit and maroon turtleneck and his greying hair trimmed, was sipping champagne in his cabin with his sister and with his wife, the former Carol Stevens.

"I can take or leave the seminars, though I guess I will participate in the discussion on the arts," he said. "What I'm really looking forward to is seeing the bird go up at night."

He suddenly remembered he'd forgotten his field glasses. "How monumentally stupid," Mailer exclaimed to his wife.

The idea for the seminar cruise was conceived by futurists Arthur C. Clark, Robert Duncan-Enzman and Richard Hoagland. "I'm disappointed that more people didn't sign up for the seminar," said Hoagland, "but the people that did come will have a major impact when they return. We also plan a book and a film documentary from the seminars."

The 50 or more people participating in the daily seminars paid from $750 to $1400, twice the normal fare, for the ten-day cruise that will stop at St. Thomas and Puerto Rico, as well as Cape Kennedy, before returning to New York. There were 250 other passengers on the ship.

To Present Testimony On Indian Occupation

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Services Administration officials are scheduled to testify Tuesday before a House subcommittee probing the Indian occupation of the Bureau of Indian Affairs headquarters last month.

The Indian Affairs panel, which is examining the motives for government decisions during the flare-up, was told Monday that officials chose not to evict the Indians forcibly for fear bloodshed would result.

Today, the subcommittee planned to question William E. Casselman, GSA general counsel; Herman W. Barth, deputy general counsel; John F. Galuardi, acting commissioner of GSA's public buildings service, and Col. Frank McKetta, acting assistant commissioner of the Office of Federal Protective Service Management. The GSA is responsible for the operation of government buildings.

As the hearing opened Monday, Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton said the government was concerned about the possibility of violence during the week-long occupation.

"It gets down to a matter of judgment—whether we want a confrontation with police, some hothead to explode himself, martyr himself or to pursue a peaceful settlement," Morton said.

He said he felt many of the Indians intended to keep their vow to fight to the death if police attempted to evict them.

"We felt if the rabble rousers' view held, some innocent people could be destroyed or hurt."

Morton discounted estimates of damage to the building, saying "I do not believe there is any $3 million in damage to that building. Mostly, it's a mess, and it doesn't take $3 million to clean up a mess."

The total, he said, probably would fall in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Although most of the questions dealt with government decisions, Rep. James Abourezk, D-S.D., told Morton he felt the demonstration showed Indians are not happy with BIA programs. The BIA is part of Morton's Interior Department.

"They feel other minority groups have reached for and got government programs ...," the senator-elect said.

Morton replied by citing increases in Indian programs under the Nixon administration and outlining what the Interior Department hoped to do in the future.

Say Hashish Ring Has Been Broken

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — An international hashish smuggling ring that has been using the cages of live Himalayan bears to hide contraband has been broken up in the mountains of Northern California, federal agents say.

U.S. Customs officers said Monday four men have been arrested and about half of an estimated $500,000 worth of hashish has been recovered.

But the two bears used to transport the hashish escaped before agents closed in on the remote mountain town of Big Bend, 240 miles northeast of San Francisco, they added.

A hole drilled in the side of one shipping cage in New York led to the discovery that the hollowed-out tops and sides were packed with hashish, customs officers said. The bears were shipped from Katamandu, Nepal.

Agents said they followed secretly when Charles E. Woodson, 32, of San Francisco picked up the loaded cages last week at San Francisco International Airport and drove to Big Bend in the Sierra.

One of the cages — and both bears — had vanished when authorities moved in. The cage that was recovered contained 32 two-pound bundles of hashish, it was reported.

Investigators said a hunter has reported killing one of the 200-pound bears, but the other bear and one cage believed to contain 64 pounds of hashish were missing Monday.

At Big Bend on Friday, agents arrested Kenneth Morrow, 24, of San Francisco and Peter Ibanez, 25, and Warren Pierce, 26, both of New York City.

U.S. Magistrate Joseph Aleck Jr., at an arraignment Monday in Redding, reduced bail for Morrow from $100,000 to $40,000, for Ibanez from $1 million to $75,000 and for Pierce from $1 million to $100,000.

Woodson was also arraigned Monday with bail set at $175,000. All were charged with smuggling.
